

THE KLUB KENTUCK BURLESQUE MINSTREL

Made Quite a Hit at Opera House Tuesday Night.

Quite the best thing in the way of home talents was the burlesque on the Klub. Kentucky minstrel given at the opera house Tuesday night.

The curtain was raised at 8:15, showing thirty-five of Earlington's most beautiful young ladies dressed in white skirts, white caps and black coats, with the exception of six "end men," who wore green skirts and red coats.

The "end men," Mrs. P. B. Davis, Miss Elsie Brown, Miss Edith Rootz, Mrs. Charles Barnett, Miss Oma Sisk and Mrs. W. E. Rash, were very fine, both in their manner of acting and impersonations, and the ballad singers, Miss Ethel Evans, Mrs. W. S. McGary, Miss Pansy Rule, Miss Ella Draper and Miss Georgia Wyatt, treated the audience to some very rare singing and at the same time gave some pleasing impersonations.

The quartet, composed of Miss Georgia Wyatt, Mrs. W. S. McGary, Miss Ethel Evans and Mrs. Witherspoon gave a burlesque on "The Old Oaken Bucket," ending with "Three Blind Mice." Their work was very fine, especially that of Mrs. Witherspoon, the baritone, in her burlesque of George Robinson.

The three Hermans, Miss Ruby Sisk, Mrs. P. P. Price and Miss Gertie Cayiness, were great in their burlesque, and the two Featherstons, Harry Murphy and Miss Janie Victory captivated the audience by their childish singing. Miss Victory also sang an illustrated song "When the Nightingales are Nesting, Sweet Irene."

The performance was concluded by a cake walk by the entire company with a banjo solo (?) by Miss Lillie Evans, dancing by the end "men," and the song, "Fare thee Well, My Old Kentucky," by Miss Annie Ashby and chorus.

The ladies only had about one week's practice, and certainly deserve great credit for the fine showing they made.

Increase of Rabid Dogs.

The following is taken from the Owensboro Inquirer:

Never before in the history of the county has there been such an epidemic of rabid dogs as there has been for the past few months, and especially the past few weeks.

In Baltimore in the past two months over 70 maddogs have been killed.

In Philadelphia the number is far in excess of any other period in the city's history.

In a single month over 80 patients have been treated at the Pasteur Institute at Chicago, the heaviest month's business in the history of the institute. Over 80 patients receiving treatment now.

The institute at New York is also having more than double the patients it has ever before had.

From every section of the country reports of persons bitten by rabid dogs are coming, and the number of persons dying of hydrophobia is greatly in excess of any former period.

It has started a rigid crusade against dogs in many cities, and the result is going to be less freedom for dogs in a number of cities in this country.

JAKE McDOWELL KILLED BY MOB.

Taken From Dixon Jail Sunday Morning and Shot to Death.

NEGRO WHO HAD SHOOTING SCRAPE WITH SMITH CHILDERS.

Dixon, Ky., May 31.—A dozen or so men took Jake McDowell, a negro, from the Webster county jail here this morning and shot him to death. The mob quickly dispersed and the officers say have been unable to learn their names.

About 2 o'clock Thomas S. Page, the jailer, who sleeps in the guard house at the jail, was awakened and found several masked men standing over him and two of them had revolvers pointed at his breast. The men said they had come to get Jake McDowell and the jailer at first resisted and when he saw the men were determined he gave up the keys.

Two of the men went into McDowell's cell and dragged the sleeping negro out. The negro begged that his life be spared but no mercy was shown him. The prisoner was taken a short distance down the Providence road and in a few minutes several shots were heard to ring out and the jailer at once realized what had happened. He quickly got in communication with the sheriff and several of the other county officers but they were unable to overtake the mob as the men had scattered and gone to their homes. The young son of the jailer went down the road to where the shooting had been heard and he found the body of McDowell lying in the road. Life was extinct and three bullet holes were found in the negro's body. The body was just outside the corporate limits and within a half mile of the jail.

On March 14, last, McDowell shot and wounded Smith Childers, who was deputy marshal at Providence at the time, in a fight that arose over personal matters. It was at first thought that Childers had been fatally wounded but he has about recovered and able to be up and around.

McDowell surrendered to the town marshal of Providence immediately after his trouble with Childers.

For fear that he might be lynched the officers took McDowell to Henderson, Ky., where he has been kept in jail until a short time ago when he was brought back here and his case had been set down for trial at the present term of court.

On the day of the shooting, J. B. Berry, of Louisville, and Paul Carter, of Chattanooga, both traveling men, heard of the affair and thinking there might be a lynching at Dixon where the negro had been taken, decided to go to Dixon to "see the fun" as they expressed it to some friends. As they were entering the outskirts of the town of Dixon several negroes in ambush mistaking them for a mob fired into them. Both Berry and Carter were wounded and removed to Walker's Sanitarium at Evansville where Berry lingered a short time and died. Carter recovered after having been in the hospital several weeks.

A number of negroes were indicted on the charge of ambushing and shooting the two drummers and most of them are now in jail here. None of these were molested by the mob which killed McDowell. The officers say they have been unable to learn any of the men in the mob.

Are Your Taxes High Enough For You?

A growing community needs constantly, larger public revenues. More money is constantly required for roads, schools, streets, sewers, public buildings, and a great many other things that go to make the outfit of a progressive, modern community. Even economical government costs money if a community is progressive.

The question facing Kentucky is: Can the State, counties, towns and cities get the larger revenues they need to meet these increasing demands by the tax system now in use in Kentucky?

The Kentucky State Development Association realizes the importance of this question and has created a Committee on Taxation, which has for some time been engaged in investigating this question. The conclusion of this committee is in line with the conclusion reached in every State where a system similar to that in use in Kentucky has been followed.

That conclusion is that it is impossible properly to care for the growing needs of the State and of its counties and cities on the present plan of raising public revenues, without imposing upon every class of property a burden heavier than it should bear—a burden so heavy that property which can not be hidden will be undervalued; property that can be hidden will be concealed, and property that can easily be moved will leave the State.

The system of Kentucky raises all its public revenues, State, county and municipal, is the system commonly in use everywhere fifty years ago, but which has now been abandoned, in whole part, by prosperous and progressive States, and which other States are preparing to abandon for methods better adapted to the new forms of property that have come into existence during recent years, and better adapted to meeting the severe competition that exists between States in the effort to attract new business enterprises.

The average tax rate, including all taxes, in cities of the second class in Kentucky is about $2.70 on each one hundred dollars of property; in cities of the third class it is about $2.07; in cities of the fourth class it is $2.17, and even in the small towns in the fifth class it is $2.10.

Manifestly, such tax rates are not conducive to development of the community. It is equally manifest that the public revenues are none too large, but that, on the contrary, they should be larger to provide many of the things absolutely needed in a progressive community. How shall these things be provided under our present system, which leaves us nothing to do but to pile an additional rate of taxation on a rate already too high, with the certainty that still more taxpayers will be driven into evasion, or plain perjury, in order to escape their taxes?

It is impossible to raise these revenues by a different system with less hardship. It is possible to meet not only all present demands, if we will but institute a system of taxation better adapted to the varying capacity of different classes of property, and now escape taxation will be brought upon the assessment rolls while the unjust burden that now rests upon real estate will be relieved. There is a great field of special taxes that Kentucky has not tried, and can not try with its tax laws in their present condition. There are successful plans of separating the sources of revenue so that the burden may be none too heavy on any particular class of property and the aggregate returns larger.

Every man pays taxes whether he is on the assessment list or not; it reaches him some way. Every man is, therefore, vitally concerned in having in Kentucky the best tax system that can be evolved from the experience of men. It is, in fact, tied to the worst—a system that has been denounced by one tax commission after another in nearly every State in the Union as wholly unfitted to modern conditions—as putting a handicap on progress, a penalty upon honesty, a burden on the man of small means, a premium upon perjury.

The committee is sending out from time to time, matter bearing upon various phases of this important question. If you are interested—and how can you help being interested in a matter that digs deeper into your pocketbook every year—send your name and address to the committee and it will put you on its mailing list. You merely join us in getting information on the subject from every possible source and spreading it. Every State is studying this question and great light is being thrown on it. It is a business question—the business is every man who earns a dollar—and this committee is engaged in trying to secure for it from the taxpayers of the State the attention it deserves. Every man in Kentucky can make money by helping to give the State a better system of raising public revenues.

JUDGE COOK CHARGES JURY.

Says Lawlessness Committed Under Cover of Tobacco Association.

JURY COMPOSED ALMOST ENTIRELY OF FARMERS.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 1.—Judge Cook's instructions to the grand jury occupied more than an hour, and covered every phase of night riding in the strongest possible language. He declared that if it was not broken up it would sound the death knell of the Tobacco Association, because the lawlessness was being committed under the cover of the association, although he could not believe it was with the approval of the association itself.

The jury is made up of nearly all farmers, and he appealed to them to help save their organization by bringing to punishment every night rider who was putting disgrace upon the association and the State of Kentucky. R. H. Kelly was made foreman.

SUNDAY MORNING NIGHT RIDERS.

Burned Property of Man Who Quit Buying Tobacco

TWO YEARS AGO AFTER BEING TWICE THREATENED.

Olmstead, Ky., June 1.—A band of Night Riders celebrated the early hours of the Sabbath by burning a large tobacco factory at this place.

The property which was destroyed belonging to John Scott, a prominent tobacco buyer for the Italian regie trade.

The event of the Night Riders was signalized by the firing of guns and pistols. Nobody offered any resistance and the few who peeped out of windows say they could not tell how many were in the gang or whether they were masked.

The riders applied the torch to the Scott building and it was burned to the ground. The loss is about $5,000, with $2,000 insurance.

Two years ago Scott was waited on in the day time by organization farmers, who requested him not to buy tobacco.

Two months later Night Riders called him from his home, and it is reported told him either to quit buying tobacco, leave the country or suffer death at their hands.

Scott sold his home and moved to Russellville. He placed his factory on the market, but was not able to sell it.

He rented the building to James Browder, an association prizier. Browder had about finished his work for the season and shipped out all the tobacco.

There was nothing in the building burned except some samples and two carloads of fertilizer.

Mr. Scott has been one of the largest purchasers of association tobacco at Russellville.

Gamlin-Cotton.

Mr. Flint Gamlin and Miss Rebecca Cotton, two of the most popular young people of Huckleberry neighborhood, were married Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride by Rev. Utley.

Miss Cotton is a daughter of J. O. Cotton, and is an exceedingly attractive young lady and has many friends who extend hearty congratulations.

Beach Hargis Tried to Kill Himself in Jail.

Jackson, Ky., May 30.—Two attempts at suicide were made in jail here. Beach Hargis, who killed his father, Judge James Hargis, swallowed morphine, and Allen Creech, who killed Charles Robinson, used whisky and strychnine and tried to cut his throat. Both were saved, but they are in serious conditions.

Moving Picture Show Thursday Night.

On Thursday night Manager W. S. McGary will open his Electric Theatre for the summer. This popular place of amusement will be a rare treat for our citizens, not only being amusing, but being instructive to young and old as well. Price of admission will be 10cts. Everything new and up-to-date.

VICTIMS TO PEACE OFFICERS BATTLE AT CENTRAL CITY.

Two Deaths in This Second Fight Over Municipal Troubles.

Central City, Ky., May 30.—The funeral of J. W. Harmon, night policeman killed here on Thursday night, took place this afternoon. The body of Charles Woodburn, who was killed at the same time, is being held awaiting the arrival of his mother and brother, who lives in Texas.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Harmon came to his death at the hands of either Woodburn or Chief of Police J. R. Wooten, and that Woodburn came to his death at the hands of Harmon.

The condition of Chief Wooten continues favorable and he will get well under favorable conditions. Developments show that each of the participants in the pitched battle was armed with two pistols and all but a few of the thirty chambers were empty at the close of the fight.

CO. G TAKE NOTICE.

Annual Inspection of Co. "G" 3rd Regiment Infantry K. S. G.

Office of Co. G.

3rd Infantry, K. S. G. Earlington, Ky., June 1st 1908. Company orders No. 13.

Par. 1. The annual inspection will be held at the Armory on June 8th 1908, at 8 p. m. and you are hereby notified to report at the Armory on that date at 7 p. m. prepared to stand this inspection, with your equipment and clothing clean and in good condition.

Par. 2. Have your haversack, canteen and belt washed clean, and see that your rifle, bayonet and scabbard are cleaned up and put in proper condition to pass a creditable inspection.

Par. 3. The inspection will be held in Khaki uniforms, white standing collar and white gloves. See that your hat cord, letter and number are in place and fastened; hair cut, shaved and shoes shined.

Par. 4. We have made a good showing at the last inspections and we want to make this a better one. We can do it if you will only do your part and come prepared to do your best and make a better showing than any member of company G. at this inspection.

Par. 5. No one will be excused from attending this inspection unless he has a physicians certificate showing that he was not physically able to be present. Let all members be governed accordingly.

By order of PAUL P. PRICE, Captain Commanding Co. G., 3rd Infantry K. S. G.

The Schedule For June.

June is coming to work her charm, To bring the rose and the blushing bride And the platform builders who view with alarm, And also exultantly point with pride. —Chicago Record-Herald.

To the young boys who have lately learned telegraphy and were laid off during the dull season, our advice is to keep up the work, for nothing is better than practice, and when the busy season is on and you are put back to the key you will be as "fit as a fiddle." Practicing is a good deal better than hanging around the depot. Have a kek at home and keep busy.

Dr. W. K. Nisbet is having a large roomy stable built at the rear of his residence.

Miss Agnes Lynn, who has been on the sick list for the past week, is reported better.

Chas. Truempy, our enterprising Jeweler received last week a nice line of staple goods.

Take your watch to Chas. Truempy, the jeweler, when it needs repairing. He can fix it.

Carpenters have commenced to put a new roof on the Earlington Hotel. This has been needed for some time.

Friday night Mr. L. L. Goodloe and Alvy Shaver attended a hop at Providence given by the dancing club of that city.

Wash Travis, who has been the news agent here, moved with his family to St. Charles, where he will open a meat shop.

All tickets to shows given at the Temple Theatre will, in the future, be sold at McGary and Wyatt's news stand.

Mr. Lee Oldham, the Madisonville house builder, is now busy building a nice two-story home for Mr. M. B. Long on West Main St.

Chas. Truempy, the jeweler, reports a large number of sales on watches, lockers, chains and bracelets the past week. There's a reason.

Your watch or clock repaired correctly. All work guaranteed or money refunded.

CHAS. TRUEMPY,
Jeweler.

On account of there being more snakes this year than usual, it is advisable to keep your grass cut short and all hiding places for them removed.

The streets of the city Saturday were crowded all day on account of the pay day of the Mining company and only one mine of the St. Bernard group run here.

When you buy jewelry buy the best. You will never regret it. Chas. Truempy, the jeweler, handles nothing except solid gold rings. His prices are reasonable.

Mr. J. H. Baker, of Atlanta, Ga., agent of the Coca-Cola people was in the city Friday advertising this popular drink. He gave away here in one day 250 glasses of that beverage.

The people who have ash and coal piles in front and side streets should be made by law to level off or remove them. Earlington is too big a town to allow such things as this.

The election of officers of the K. of P. lodge was held at Castle Hall last week and the installation will be the last Monday night in June, followed by a spread of good things to eat.

Street Commissioner Wood had several teams Saturday hauling screenings filling up the holes in the streets. This is a proper move. Nothing escapes the "Colonel" in this line.

A protracted meeting will soon commence at the Missionary Baptist church by the regular pastor. He being a preacher of no mean ability as a pulpit orator, good results are expected.

There is some talk of a new hotel being built by a stock company on the lot owned by Mrs. McDonald. If any town on earth needs a first-class hotel it is Earlington, and we hope this is not mere talk.

The dance given by the young people at Madisonville Thursday night was attended by several of our young people who enjoy tipping the light fantastic toe. Buck Shaver was in attendance.

Earlington is now large enough to have a stock yard and keep the cows off of the streets and out of the people's yards and gardens. There are some cattle in town that can open a gate as well as any person.

On Sunday, June 7th, the Odd Fellows lodge of this city will decorate the graves of their departed brethren at the cemetery here. This is an annual custom of this lodge and no doubt a large crowd of our citizens will attend.

All the grocery stores are now stocked with new vegetables and the supply of strawberries have been very large this year. Mr. J. W. Mitchell, who operates the truck garden of Jas. R. Rash, brought in a large wagon load every day.

The galvanized iron cornice for the front of the Victory building has been put in place. Also the name "Victory" placed about three feet below the top of the building. This is a handsome building and Earlington is justly proud of it.

Ed Trahern, St. Bernard druggist, who has been indisposed for a few days, is better.

W. J. Bailey, the music man, of Madisonville, sold two fine upright pianos in Earlington last week.

Wood Allen, representing the South Western Publishing Co., spent Monday in the city on business.

Born last Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Buchanan, two fine boys. Jim is one of the proudest men in town.

Miss Effie Stokes, our popular post mistress, after a weeks vacation, returned to her duties Monday.

Sam Garrard, of Madisonville, has the contract of painting the new home of Mrs. H. B. Rosser on Methodist hill.

Mr. John Jackson, who has been an invalid for the past 12 months, is slowly improving, much to the delight of his many friends.

Saturday being decoration day and legal holiday. The Banks and post-office was closed much to the discomfort of a good many who had overlooked it.

The party who took the cue ball from the table of the Klub Kentuck room is known and no question will be asked if he will return same. If not, the strong arm of the law will be called into service.

Jon. Coyle, M. B. Long and H. W. Rogers returned Saturday from a fishing trip off Pond river. Coyle says that they caught 3 fish, Mike Long says that they caught 35. Take your choice.

For a small town Earlington takes the prize for the number of passenger trains, 28 coming and leaving here every 24 hours. This includes the branch trains on the M. & A. to Providence and Morgantown.

Mr. Jim and Ed Harlin, who has been in the employ of the St. Bernard Mining Co., for the past six months as guards, returned to their home in the eastern part of the State last week.

The Bay View Literary Club met Friday night at the residence of Mrs. W. S. McGary and after the pleasant business of the meeting, a delightful two-course luncheon was served by the charming hostess.

Quite a number of our people attended the memorial and decoration day services at Southard school house Sunday; dinner was served on the grounds picnic style and all participants had an enjoyable day.

Mrs. Jas. T. Moutague (nee Miss Lizzie Dean) will in the near future leave for Cambridge, Ohio, where she and Mr. Moutague will make it their future home. Their many friends regret exceedingly to see this move.

Mr. Whitner, who has the contract for the brick work of the Victory house will finish in a day or two. Mr. Whitner is first class workman, an agreeable gentleman and has made many friends here. His work is first-class in every respect.

One of the handsomest pieces of work ever seen in this county is the monument lately erected at the cemetery in honor of the late J. M. Victory. Mr. Lucian Davis, of Hopkinsville, from whom it was purchased, has been in the city for some time superintending the placing of same.

The handsome home of Capt. F. D. Rash has received a coat of paint and greatly adds to its appearance.

Mr. Geo. C. Abbott, the Episcopal divine, of Hopkinsville, held services at the reading room Tuesday evening.

Mrs. M. B. Long, wife of our popular baker, while moving some heavy furniture last week, came very near having her right arm broken by a piece falling, but fortunately only severe bruises resulted.

Why it is that the majority of our teamsters will invariably stop on the crossing, making ladies and others walk around their teams? Is this ignorance they should learn better; if not, they should be made to do better.

The young boys who, under the care of Harry Brame, have been camping on Little River, near Hopkinsville, returned home Saturday much delighted with their trip. As Harry knows every fishing hole in Christian county, they no doubt had good luck.

It is being rumored that the old shack which lies the west side of the R. R. will be moved and this is a good move, for if they are allowed to stand there our New City Hall will not put on a very imposing appearance.

Mr. W. C. Minneman, traveling representative of Mackey, Nesbit Co., of Evansville, spent Tuesday in the city. Mac has been with this firm for about fifteen years, and is well-known in this territory, and his annual sales are enormous.

Quite a number of our base ball lovers witnessed the defeat of Madisonville team by Morgantown last Friday. The score was 7 to 3. Morgantown has a very strong team but we believe that Earlington can show them a thing or two when it comes to the national sport.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until today we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them and in combination of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his Golden Medical Discovery, which has cured thousands of the most afflicted stomach to liver troubles, the heart, brain and circulation, blood, and all the organs of the body. Dyspepsia, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of women's most peculiar affections, weaknesses and disturbing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of grateful testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured of all sorts of female troubles, irregularities, and other ailments caused by an incorrect secretion of uterus and kindred troubles, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed for this purpose. Made entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful and heating drugs, a full box of each medicine is printed on gold-leafed paper.

The St. Bernard will in the near future commence to operate their saw mill near No. 9 mine. A number of teams are now hauling logs for the same.

Newdealer W. S. McGary has decorated his delivery horse with a string of bells and when you hear them you will know that the paper boy is in sight.

The Earlington Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy are requested to meet at 1:30 p. m., Saturday at the residence of Miss Motile Whalen. All members are expected to be present.

Don't forget that all of the trimmed hats are going at cost at Mrs. O'Brien's Millinery Store, located in the Madisonville Saving Bank building, Madisonville, Ky. Several of our society people attended a dance at Seebos on Wednesday night and from tired looks and sleepy eyes this morning they must have had a swell evening.

Quite a number of the society people of St. Charles were in the city Tuesday night to attend the Klub Kentuck burlesque minstrel, and all say that the show was the best home talent ever seen.

At St. Charles on Sunday June 7th Childrens Day services will be held at the Sunday school building and under the direction of Mr. Geo. Klug. Quite an interesting program will be carried out.

Mr. Jno. Jennings, who has been running the motor at the Hecla mine for the past 4 years, has resigned and has accepted a position in the shops of the St. Louis Street Car Co., at St. Louis, Mo. He left Monday with his wife, and their many friends wish them success in their new home.

Dr. Burton McEuen, of St. Charles, brother of Rex McEuen, of this city, left Monday for Louisville to go before the State examining board. Barton has many friends here and we hope that he will locate with us. Competition is the life of business and Earlington is large enough to support two dentists.

The reckless shooting of fire arms in the city limits is becoming a mighty occurrence and with all the vigilance of the officers it looks impossible to suppress it. If the knaves, who have more cartridges than sense, are caught, the fullest punishment of the law will be meted out to them.

The base ball lovers in Earlington are very loud in their praise of Mr. Thos. Stone, who without any charge, fixed up the ball ground near Hanna's shop with plow and large heavy roller, making it as smooth as glass. Tom is a base ball fan and is always ready to assist the boys. Their new uniforms will be ordered later and we will have a first-class team and ready to meet all comers. Elsewhere will be found the result of the game Sunday between Earlington and St. Charles.

Mr. F. M. Dicus, a former railroad employe of this place, now a resident of South Pittsburg, Tenn., was in the city Monday. Mr. Dicus has purchased one-third interest in the electric light plant of that city. As this is a young and growing city, he has secured a valuable piece of property.

The game of ball Sunday between Earlington and St. Charles proved an easy thing for our home boys, who defeated the visitors by a score of 12 to 0. The St. Charles team played a good game but our battery proved too strong for them. No doubt they will have better luck at the return game which will be played at St. Charles soon.

Dr. P. B. Davis returned home Thursday from Caldwell Co., where he had been to purchase a horse. It seems as if Princeton was quite a stock market. Recently Mr. Jno. Coyle purchased a fine Shetland pony there. The one he bought last year is now in very bad shape from a disease known to veterinary surgeons as "big jaw."

The Klub Kentuck organized a brass band this week composed of the following members: Leonard Goodloe, Tom Long, Dave Cowell, Jno. Blakely, P. P. Price, Chas. Trahern, Grover Long, Jewel Webb, Brick Southworth, Chas. Webb, John Long, Eugene Foster, Lawson Miles and Tom Wand. The boys will have their instruments in a few days and will practice at the club rooms.

Mr. Mace Colhus, of St. Charles, was in the city one day last week, enroute to Madisonville to get a load of ice. If Earlington had an ice plant and laundry it could command the trade from St. Charles, Morton's Gap, Nortonville and Ilesley. In Earlington alone last week there were 90 tons of ice used and very near 100 worth of laundry sent to other places.

Our literary friend, Col. W. A. Toombs, has in the June issue of the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine quite an interesting and amusing article, "The Han't at Belote's Lane." We are indeed glad to see our friend has been recognized by one of the most popular magazines in the South and it is a worthy recognition of a gifted pen. We hope to see more of the same. The dialect is perfect. You can't afford to miss reading it.

Prof. R. Y. Maxey left Saturday for his home in the eastern part of the state. Mr. Maxey has been principal of the Earlington Graded School for the past year, and by his courteous manner has made a host of friends. Under his efficient management the school has been raised to a very high plane and it is the wish of our citizens that he return here next year.

The weekly indoor target practice of Company "3" is still held every drill night of the company. Some very good shots are being developed and the high score being 46 out of a possible 50 has been made by private Chas Ray. Several 44 and 45 have been made, after inspection which will be Monday night June 8th. Arrangements will be made to classify the marksmen and prizes will be given to the best shots. A full attendance at inspection is expected and as our boys always put up a good appearance, we do not expect the result.

Capt. and Adjutant Frank D. Rash has been appointed the officer to investigate the proposed camp grounds and report the condition of same to the adjutant general at Frankfort. This ground is the same that was offered to Henry R. Lawrence last year. Mr. Jno. B. Atkinson has offered free water, arc and incandescent light for use of the camp.

On account of the deal being made between Morris Kohlman and Jas. Maloney, the pool-room will not be moved to the room where the barber shop now stands, as was reported in the Bee a few weeks ago. Mr. Maloney will in the front room put in a large line of smokers articles, consisting of cigars, cigarettes, pipes, smoking and chewing tobacco under the management of that prince of good fellows, Jno. Blakely.

Dr. W. K. Nisbet is authority for the statement that the use of Lake known exclusively eliminates the chances of typhoid fever. He says that water standing in barrels or any receptacle should be emptied as soon as possible and where it can be done that coal oil be proved on top of the water thus preventing the breeding of mosquitoes, flies and other insects that carry the fever germs. This statement and suggestion coming from our city physician is worthy of notice and very important.

MINE WORKERS DEMAND PRESIDENT SMITH'S SCALP

Claim That The Funds Of The Organization Have Been Wasted.

Central City, Ky., June 3.—Representatives from sixteen local unions United Mine Workers of America are here to ask the president, W. O. Smith, to resign. A mass meeting of miners was held at Graham and a committee appointed for this purpose. The dissatisfaction grows out of what the miners claim of wasteful expenditure of the funds of the organization. Mr. Smith is serving his second term, having been re-elected in March last. In case of his refusal to offer his resignation a convention of miners will be called to take action on the matter when charges of incompetency will be made and a new election demanded.

Major Bassett in Command of Troops in Western Kentucky.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 2.—Colonel Jonett Henry, who succeeded Major Albrecht in a charge of the troops in Western Kentucky, has been relieved and Major Bassett placed in command. The appointment gives general satisfaction.

My heart is fixed in the belief that ultimately the sunshine and the summer, the flowers and the azure sky, shall become, as it were, interwoven into man's existence. He shall take from all their beauty and enjoy their glory.

MORE VIOLENCE.

Western Kentucky is carrying another disgrace. To be sure the man who was wantonly lynched by a band of felons at Dixon was a negro. Even so, and if he had been guilty of murder instead of shooting and wounding another in a personal difficulty, he would have been entitled, as any other man, to a fair trial in the courts. The man, Childers, whom the negro, McDowell, dangerously wounded in an encounter on the streets of Providence, has recovered. McDowell's lawyers claimed that he had a good case, in which provocation and self defense would have been alleged, had he been allowed to live and give his testimony. The work of this small mob has brought added disgrace upon Webster county and the good citizens of that county feel outraged by the occurrence. One deplorable feature of the situation is the false reports sent out from Dixon to certain daily newspapers, written apparently with the purpose of shielding and defending the mob. In these reports it is represented that McDowell had confessed to being in the party of negroes that ambushed and shot the two drummers in March on the road from Providence to Dixon the night of the day on which McDowell shot Childers. The correspondent has endeavored to make it appear that McDowell was lynched because he participated in this work of assassination. Everybody who knows anything of the deplorable tragedy knows that McDowell was arrested immediately after the shooting of Childers; that he was taken that afternoon to Dixon and thence on through to Henderson for safe keeping. A mob was formed to lynch McDowell and another mob, of McDowell's friends, was formed to anticipate the first mob. These are guilty of the death of Barry and the wounding of his friend Carter, both of whom were on their way to Dixon to witness a possible lynching; the ambushing party having mistaken them for a part of the mob formed to lynch McDowell. The spirit of violence in Kentucky is finding many manifestations. When will the end come?

EARLINGTON has been "dry" since 1882. Twenty-six years of real and continuous enforcement of local prohibition. The fruits of temperance and industry are to be seen on every hand and this town of comfortable homes and cozy environments; of industrious, contented and thrifty inhabitants numbering nearly four thousand, is a vivid object lesson in favor of the dry side of the liquor question. The present city officials, like practically all of those who have had control here during this past quarter century of Earlinton's temperance history, are always alert to any sign of infraction of our temperance laws. The Bee extends to any and all temperance people of Madisonville a cordial invitation to visit Earlinton and note the visible proof of the benefits of local prohibition well enforced.

A SPECIAL correspondent of a Louisville daily speaks of the Louisville Legion as "the cream" of the Kentucky State Guard. They are good all right, and have usually made a good showing on parade. But what of the fighting contingent of the Third and Second—the regulars of the Guard who have done most to win the recent battles for law and order and are winning back again the good name of Kentucky? Shall we call them "the cream cheese" of the State Guard—the essence of the whole milk with all the water squeezed out?

CLARKSVILLE has compromised with the boycotters and the night riders, to save a few dollars worth of present trade. Trade is a good thing but if any moral principle has been surrendered in the fight for law and order the name of Clarksville will suffer in a way that cannot be measured in dollars. As a result of the compromise "the boycott which was ordered against Clarksville merchants in notices signed 'N. R.' will be removed."

A PARTY of hay riders from Frankfort were assaulted one night recently and two young ladies were seriously hurt by missiles thrown in the dark. A fine brand of lawlessness right under the walls of the State Capital—and the State penitentiary. If all the present Kentucky felons could be apprehended and convicted, how the walls of the latter institution would expand.

Earlington has recently come out strong on home talent entertainments. A good and profitable thing to develop. The social spirit and the common interests of the community are emphasized and, aside from entertainment, every body, participant or spectator, is benefited.

THE Bee suggests that Judge Pryor get the testimony of Gen. Supply and Maj. Demand. They may be able to point out the scoundrel who manipulates coal prices. But it's a bad time of year to be feeling for the high points.

JUDGE PRYOR and his Louisville grand jury may yet have to get an aeroplane in which to seek that "high and mysterious authority" that regulates the price of coal. Or, perhaps a psychic might serve the purpose.

BRO. GLENN's spirit must have groaned inwardly, that he must accept without printed protest the decision of the Tabernacle temperance meeting that Madisonville is not the "best town on earth."

A Democratic paper has headlines "Great Stampede for Roosevelt Impending." Silly stuff. Tatt's following cannot be stampeded, not even to Theodore Roosevelt.

MINISTERS and men defend us. There is no "B. T. O. E.," since the fateful temperance meeting at the Madisonville Tabernacle.

Disappointing. The brain of the eminent German linguist who could speak 50 different languages has been examined and found to differ in no degree from the brain of the man who spits invectives in but one tongue.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Locomotive Blasts

J. S. Hancock was in Hopkinsville Friday.

Fred Ashby moved in his new home with Mrs. Sisk Monday.

Conductor Chas. Doyle is on Jno. Canler's run during his absence.

Express Route Agent O. M. Fisher, passed through the city last week.

Conductor Ben Lacy, of Hopkinsville, was in town Sunday visiting friends.

Pete Steimle's car and crew were pulled off chain gang service Sunday.

Brakeman Wallace returned Monday from Slaughters, where he has been visiting relatives.

Yard engine 606 is again in the yards after a thorough overhauling at the Howell shops.

Conductors Jno. Canler and Dick Meacham left for Hot Springs, Ark., Sunday night on 54.

Elsworth Evans attended the funeral and burial of Mr. Eugene Cordier, at Madisonville, last week.

Law Agent Stout, of the Henderson division, was in the city Friday and Saturday on business.

Caller Blackwell will leave in a few days to visit relatives in Springfield, Tenn. He will be relieved by Frank Hoffman.

Mr. Chas. Kinney, superintendent of the water supply of the Henderson division, is in the city working on the water main in the depot.

N. E. McKinnon, dispatcher on the north end, is at the bedside of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lynch, at Milan, Tenn. B. F. Thompson is working in his place.

As a result of drinking too much ice water when being very warm, Mr. W. H. Sheen came very near dying last Thursday, the prompt action only of the doctors saving his life.

The cut-off from the siding to main track north of the depot has been taken out, thus reducing the chances of an accident by having so many tracks over main street crossing.

Mr. W. B. Witty, the painter at the round house, displayed his ability as a painter last week by painting engine 965 all over. This work has always been done in the shops at Howell, Ind., and this is the first one ever painted here. The painting of an engine requires great skill and different paint from any other class of work.

A Hair Dressing

If you wish a high-class hair dressing, we are sure Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will greatly please you. It keeps the hair soft and smooth, makes it look rich and luxuriant, prevents splitting at the ends. And it keeps the scalp free from dandruff.

Does not change the color of the hair.

At the same time the new Ayer's Hair Vigor is a strong hair tonic, promoting the growth of the hair, keeping all the tissues of the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. The hair stops falling, dandruff disappears. A splendid dressing.

Items by our "Devil"

Between ninety and one hundred tons of ice was consumed in Earlinton last week. Now, who said Earlinton people drink anything but ice water?

Some men not only save their money, but a lot of other people's as well.—Exchange.

Seems that way over at Owensboro

We have been requested to keep this column going for awhile, some seeming to like it. Oh, well, there are a lot of people who like the "devil" anyway.

An exchange states in its pertinent paragraphs that "some men are not as ugly as they look." This would be a great consolation to some of the other sex if the same thing could also apply to them.

The month of May was an exceedingly unlucky one for Mae Wood. There must be quite a contrast between the jail and her contemplated mansion furnished with the coin from her divorce suit with Senator Platt.

Much comment is going the rounds about the pig that was born at Sturgis that had a face like a human. This is the first case of this kind we have ever heard of, but quite often we run across humans who were born and had developed into the likeness and actions of his pigship.

Picnics, barbecues, baseball and excursions. It seems to us that summer sho' am come.

It is said that a lazy man and fishing go together. If that is true, then we are the laziest fellow in town. But, gee! just look at the company we have.

Jack Chinn has secured a judgment against a patent medicine company for $2,500 for using his name without his consent. Just give us half, yes a third of that amount, and we'll let the whole bunch get a whack at our name.

It can easily be noticed from our local and personal columns this week that the hand of our efficient local man, Mr. Henry Jones, has improved. Since our connection with the Bee as its "devil", and so forth and so fifth, this is the best local paper we have helped put out. You are indeed hard to please if you can't find what you are looking for in the Bee this week.

THE SOUTH IS GOING DRY.

Lay the jest about the julep in the campfire balls at last, For the miracle has happened and the olden days are past; That which made Milwaukee famous doesn't foam in Tennessee. And the lid in Alabama is as tight as tight can be; And the comic paper Colonel and his cronies well may sigh, For the mint is waving gayly, and the South is going dry. By the hillside in Kentucky, ail is still, And the only damp refreshment must be dipped up from the rill, North Carolina's stately Governor gives his soda glass a shove, And discusses local option with the South Carolina Gov. It is useless at the fountain to be winking of the eye, For the cocktail glass is dusty and the South is going dry. It is water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink, We no longer hear the music of the mellow crystal clink When the Colonel and the General and the Major and the Judge Meet to have a little nip to give the appetite an edge— For the eggnog now is nugless and the rye has gone awry, And the punchbowl holds carnations and the South is going dry. —Lexington Leader.

Mining

The Mining News in and Around Earlington

Some idea can be formed about the wages a good machine man can make in the mines here when it is known he can make over fifty dollars per month with the mine running only about half of the time.

At Madisonville much profane and abusive language is now heard from those who a short time ago composed the rank and file of the agitators, but who of late have had their dried beans and apples cut off and can now see no good in an organization who would treat them so shabbily.

Reliable reports from Providence confirm the statement that a deep laid plot existed there to attack at night one of the principal coal plants near that place and that only the precautionary steps taken by placing sufficient guards on duty to protect the property thwarted them in their evil design.

Among the many good features of the "Wright" law which requires the examination of mine foreman is the one exempting those who have filled the position of foreman or assistant foreman for a period of four years or more. This is a just clause and will free many a good foreman from an examination which under the strict rules he could not stand on account of a limited education, yet his experience has made him a safe man.

So important has the mining industry of the country grown, that many strong advocates of a new cabinet position to be known as "Secretary of Mining" now exist and with the mine productions each year now reaching the two billion dollar mark, such an industry deserves recognition. So let the present congress add another to the list of cabinet officials and Western Kentucky will send them the name of one worthy in every respect of such an appointment and he will hail from Hopkins county.

One of the paid officials of the U. M. W. takes the pains to deny the report that what that organization termed a strike has not been called off. That statement may be true, but so far as the mines of this county are concerned no visible strike has existed. Mines have been running regularly ever since their so-called strike was first inaugurated. In fact a surplus of good men satisfied with their condition and wages is the result.

Manager F. D. Rash says since some of the new coal crusher building has been erected it looks something like a sky scraper and when completed will be a tall building and one that will hold an immense amount of crushed coal. Several cars of eighty thousand capacity can be stored there at one time and a busy time is predicted for No. 11 mine crew.

Secretary Geo. O. Atkinson has returned from his trip south, and reports that the signs for an improvement in business are not at all bright, in fact nothing but a slow run can be seen before August, and taking advantage of this lull in business he will take his departure for a three weeks vacation to some summer resort where he will not have to wrestle with the problem of disposing of a hundred cars of coal with only orders for fifty cars on his desk.

Business of importance called the mine inspector to a mine near Nebo, Ky., last week, and to show what a hustler Mr. Spillman is, the extreme hot weather did not deter him from striking a rapid fire for the distance of about five miles, so that he could be able to punctually meet another appointment on that day.

From reports we hear, there is little doubt but that the Shamrock mine under the supervision of foreman Thos. Longstaff, is among the best in Western Kentucky. Go there when you please and everything pertaining to keeping a mine in first class condition can be found. This plainly shows what experience, intelligence and energy will do when applied to a mine.

A controversy over the superiority of the different mining machines has arisen, and as usual both sides has friends. The friends of the electric machines such as used at the Hecla mine, make the claim that much less dust is made by this machine than by the punching machine now in use at No. 11 and other mines, while on the other hand many claim the loss of coal is smaller when mined by the latter machine, and among that number can be found Inspector Spillman, whose judgment should be accepted when his chance observation and his experience are considered.

Before starting up the Royal mine the officials of that mine called upon the mine inspector to make the mine a visit so that he could approve of changes made or suggest any needed improvements. This shows a desire on the part of the company to strictly comply with the mine regulations and rules, and is an assurance of safety to miners.

The use of quite a number of coke ovens has been discontinued by the St. Bernard Company for a while, or until the looked for revival in business will again call them into service. This will most likely reduce the force at the coke works, and cause some of the faithful to look for work elsewhere. As the suspension will only be temporary, but few of the men will leave here.

The territory over which the new Assistant Mine Inspector is to have jurisdiction we are told will comprise the counties of Hopkins, Christian, Webster, Henderson and Union in which is now located about seventy mines in operation with others contemplated so it is certain that some hustling will have to be done if every mine is visited once a month. On an average of nearly three each working day will have to be visited and if our friend Thos. Long is the lucky man he will no have much time to call on his best girl.

Some great imaginative mind or poor deluded being whose head had probably been turned by the too frequent cry against trusts, conceived the idea that the coal consumers were being robbed by a concerted move on the part of the coal dealers of Louisville, and without first making an intelligent investigation as to the cause for the high prices of coal, he rushes headlong before the grand jury with his complaint. The jury made no important discovery and could return no indictments. Most likely their investigation showed that transportation had more to do with the price of coal on the market than the coalagent or company he represented. This decision has a local bearing, as Hopkins county furnishes a large amount of coal for the Louisville market, and quite naturally the coal operators here feel proud of their vindication.

COLORED COLUMN

MR. S. R. DRIVER, EDITOR

The Earlington B. B. club defeated the Crabtree team on Saturday; score 12 to 4.

Rev. Stoner has returned from his trip. Stoner is a close student and always on the lookout for practical themes.

We are glad to note that Mrs. L. B. Cavanaugh was able to be out in town last week much to the delight of her many friends.

The final exercises of graduating class on Monday evening were more than interesting. Mr. J. B. Atkinson presented the the diplomas after appropriate remarks.

I. E. Edwards, State Commander of the Western Beauty Fraternity, has returned from a district tour to the lodges. He reports royal welcomes and a good time generally.

King Solomon, U. B. F. Lodge and Fatrest Temple S. M. E., will hold their 14 anniversary on Sunday June 6 at 2 p. m. at the Mt. Zion Baptist church. All are invited. Rev. Boyles, of Madisonville, will preach the annual sermon.

The exercises at Temple Theatre last Friday night were excellent and reflected to the instructors. Mrs. Prof. Bell deserves extra credit for the presentation of the operaetta Snow White. These are the things that show the upward trend of the race.

The C. M. E. church will open an old fashioned camp meeting soon. Able ministers will be secured for the ten days of its duration. The company (St. Bernard) will put electric lights in the park and it is hoped some good will be the result. Said church has also secured the park for July 4.

Rev. Evans, of Tennessee, having accepted the call of the Mt. Zion Baptist church, preached three powerful sermons last Sunday. In the afternoon his Baccalaureate sermon to the graduates and school children high in the list of the effective ministers Earlington has secured a prize in him. We congratulate the church on her selection.

N. P. TRAINS TIED UP

SERIOUS WASHOUTS CAUSED BY HEAVY RAINS.

PASSENGERS HELD AT BILLINGS

Line Through Bozeman Mountains Is Torn Up at Two Different Points.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—Through traffic over the Northern Pacific is suspended and at least five westbound Northern Pacific trains with their passengers are tied up at Billings, Mont., awaiting repairs on the track between that point and Butte, according to reports received at the general offices of the road Tuesday.

At two different points on the Bozeman mountains heavy rains have caused serious washouts. In one place the track is torn up for a distance of 100 feet and in another for about 80 feet.

Crews of men have been rushed to the scene of the trouble and repair work is in progress, and it is expected that the line will again be open to traffic by Thursday morning. Meanwhile the eastbound trains are being detoured by way of the Great Northern and are coming in considerably behind time. The last train to get through left here May 29.

It is reported that considerable damage has also been done to the road bed of the new Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul extension in Montana by the heavy rains and floods.

It was announced at the general offices of the Northern Pacific Tuesday afternoon that through westbound traffic would be opened Thursday morning. By that time it is expected that temporary trestles will have been completed over the two fills that were washed out in the Bozeman mountains of Montana.

JEFFRIES MUST HANG.

Gov. Folk Refuses to Grant a
Third Respite.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 3.—Gov. Folk Tuesday night refused to grant a third respite to William Jeffries, under sentence to be hanged at St. Charles June 4 for the murder of William Wussler, a farmer, on April 5, 1905. Jeffries has twice been respite pending the action of the pardon board on his appeal for clemency. The pardon board has refused to act.

In declining to further interfere with the execution of Jeffries, Gov. Folk said there were no mitigating circumstances which would warrant him in commuting the sentence, the evidence showing that Jeffries murdered Wussler in cold blood for the purpose of robbery.

Platt Sued for Wife's Debts.
New York, June 3.—A suit was brought in the supreme court Tuesday against United States Senator Thomas C. Platt by a law firm to recover $2,471, which the plaintiff claimed it had paid for debts contracted by Mrs. Lillian Janeway Platt shortly before her separation agreement with Senator Platt was executed in 1906. The plaintiff alleges that Senator Platt was to pay all the bills incurred by his wife prior to their separation.

Russia Wants $100,000,000 Loan.
St. Petersburg, June 3.—Finance Minister Kokovtsov has sent a communication to the cabinet proposing the immediate issuance of an internal loan of $100,000,000. This, it is understood, is to cover the budget deficit and other expenses which can not be deferred. Some of it will go toward the relief of those suffering from famine.

Gas Pipe Thugs Sentenced.
San Francisco, June 3.—John Siemsen and Louis Palmer, known as the "gas pipe thugs," who confessed to committing many sensational assaults and robberies during the autumn of the great fire of 1906 and who were convicted of murdering M. HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Earlington Citizen Can Afford To Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Earlington proof:

Mrs. C. D. Manning, living on Robertson St., Earlington, Ky., says: "My husband's health has become very poor. His symptoms indicated that his kidneys were at fault. There was a constant pain and soreness in his back and he could hardly stoop or straighten after assuming a bending position. Many times his discomfort was so great he was forced to quit work. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for such complaints he obtained a box and began their use in accordance with the directions and in a comparatively short time was completely cured. He procured the remedy at the St. Bernard drug store, and cannot recommend them too highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Mulburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agent for the United States.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure."

SENATOR LAFOLLETTE LOSES

WISCONSIN SENATOR TALKED
EIGHTEEN HOURS.

STONE AND GORE LEND AID

Aldrich-Vreeland Currency Bill Passes
Senate by a Vote of 43 to 22.

Washington, June 1.—The filibuster in the senate ended at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill was passed by a vote of 43 to 22. Senator La Follette kept the senate up all night and gave way at 7 o'clock Saturday morning to Senator Stone of Missouri, who talked till about 1 o'clock, when a short recess was taken. Senator Gore of Oklahoma, the third filibuster, then made a two-hour speech and the vote was taken.

All of the affirmative votes were cast by Republicans, but Senators Borah, Brown, Bourne and Heyburn, Republicans, voted with the Democrats, against the bill. Senator La Follette voted in the affirmative for the purpose of moving a reconsideration of the vote, which he attempted to do immediately after the result was announced, but his motion was lost, 45 to 17.

Currency Commission Organizes.
Washington, June 1.—The currency commission appointed Saturday by Vice-President Fairbanks and Speaker Cannon under the terms of the Aldrich-Vreeland bill held its first meeting Sunday, and while the meeting was for the purpose of organization, there was a general discussion of plans and it can be stated that if the outline submitted by Senator Aldrich is perfected by the work of the commission, the country will be given the benefit of such a thorough investigation and complete an exposition of currency and banking as it has never before received. The commission organized by electing Senator Aldrich chairman and Representative Vreeland vice-chairman.

FAMILY OF FOUR DROWNS.

Party Was Celebrating Clearing Off a
Mortgage from Home.

Philadelphia, June 1.—An entire family, consisting of William Edleman, aged 38 years, his wife Elizabeth, aged 37, and their two children, Anna, aged 17, and William, aged 7, of West Pensacola, N. J., were drowned in Pensacola creek, below Riverton, N. J., Sunday, by the capsizing of a small rowboat.

The family was taking an outing, partly in celebration of the fact that the father had just cleared off the mortgage on their home. The bodies of the four were recovered after several hours' grappling. Parsons who saw the boat further up the stream before it was wrecked say there were five or six persons in it, but no trace of other bodies has been found.

MISSISSIPPI FLOODS HOMES

DESERTED FARMS IN NORTHERN MISSOURI PROTECTED FROM RIVER PIRATES.

DEPUTIES TO SHOOT THIEVES

Damage By the High Water to the Crops in the Rich Country
May Amount to Millions.

Hannibal, Mo., June 3.—Citizens' Protective associations are being formed throughout the bottom lands of Northern Missouri to prevent river pirates from looting the hundreds of homes that have been abandoned for miles along the Mississippi river owing to the high water.

In the West Quincy bottoms, where the river drove out all dwellers six miles from each bank, the pirates have been especially active and a special police patrol from Quincy, Ill., has been sent across the river to protect the property of the Missourians.

Arrangements are being made to have boats patrol the river banks of Lewis, Scotland and Marion counties, where the water is higher than it has been in the last 25 years, owing to the overflow of the north, south and middle rivers.

The men who are manning the boats have been sworn in as deputies by the sheriffs and are authorized to shoot all persons found looting houses.

Five Hundred Persons Leave Home.

It is estimated that 500 persons have been compelled to abandon their homes during the last two weeks and seek shelter in the table lands. In many cases they have been unable to remove their valuables and thieves have been busy.

The river is receding now, but in Lewis, Marion and Scotland counties the crops have been ruined and hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage has been done.

The Alexandria bottoms, the richest cucumber and tomato country in the world, are under several feet of water, and the damage here runs close to $1,000,000.

Ten thousand acres of corn and wheat have been destroyed by the high water, and the total damage from the rise will be in the millions.

Railroad Under Water.

From Louisiana northward along the Burlington the water covers the elevated railroad tracks and extends from two to three miles on either side of the bank. The outskirts of Clarksville, Louisiana and Elberly are impassable and persons residing in the bottoms have moved toward the bluffs.

Farmers are rushing into Hannibal, Louisiana, Clarksville, Edina, La Belle and other cities which are too high to be swamped. They are bringing with them their families, their cattle and blankets. The rest of their possessions stay with the flood.

From the West Quincy bottoms, where the water is 6 feet deep, six miles from the river, residents are coming to Quincy, Ill. Every boat has been engaged during the last week carrying families from the flooded lands to the elevated spots.

Sheriff Taken to Colorado.

Des Moines, Ia., June 3.—While the local attorneys were preparing to go to Lansing, Mich., to prevent the taking of Frank Shercliffe, the famous Iowa desperado, to Leadville, Col., to face a trial for murder, the Colorado officials extradited the man. Word has just been received here to the effect that a Des Moines attorney who arrived in Lansing Monday night for the purpose of securing Shercliffe's release, was disappointed to learn that the man already had been taken back to Colorado. The alleged murder is said to have been committed in 1901.

Kansas City Defeats Commission.

Kansas City, Mo., June 3.—At a special election held in Kansas City, Kan. Tuesday the proposition to substitute the commission form of government for the present one was defeated by about 1,000 votes. The campaign for and against the change was hard fought. Several of the commissioners of Des Moines, Ia., where the plan is in operation, spoke during the closing days of the campaign.

Iowa's Oldest Minister Dead.

Iowa City, Ia., June 3.—Rev. Dr. B. N. Fellows, who was said to be the oldest minister in Iowa, died Tuesday. He had held pastorates in various cities and towns in the upper Iowa conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was presiding elder of the conference and served also as a professor of philosophy in the state university of Iowa.

Will Try to Beat Record.

San Francisco, June 3.—The big turbine liner Tonic Maru, recently built for the Toyo Kaen Kaisha, left Yokohama Tuesday on her maiden voyage to this port. It is of 14,000 tons displacement and can carry 800 passengers in addition to the cargo of freight. It is expected that she will try to beat the time record across the Pacific.

Quite Accounted For.

"That man always gets along and seems to be enterprising in other ways, yet he never handles anything which isn't a drug in the market." "What is his business?" "He's an apothecary."

If one is thin and spiritless, in the spring of early summer, they call it Spring fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced.

THE RECEPTION COMMITTEE.

Another Case of "The Majority."

COURIER JOURNAL, JUNE 2

History repeats itself. Such wanton outrages as the murder of "Jake" McDowell at Dixon were committed during the declining days of the Ku-Klux Klan after the Civil War, and resulted from the demoralization of society by the activities of an organization formed for the purpose of regulating affairs.

The killing of this negro prisoner was an illustration of "majority rule," as it is understood by night riders. The mob that desired to commit the murder, outnumbering the opposition, proceeded to do so. It is noted in the dispatches that this is the first lynching that has ever occurred in the county. It is doubtless a part of the wave of crime that has resulted in Kentucky from emulation of the example of the Ku-Klux by "regulators" in the tobacco counties, although it is not directly connected with the so-called tobacco war than was the slaying of a party of young persons out for a hay ride near Frankfort a few days ago.

This was not, by any construction, a case of determined citizens taking the law into their own hands. The negro was not guilty of a capital crime. The law provided a prison sentence in the event of proof of guilt.

The law has been so scorned and spit upon in this state, thanks to the failure of local government to govern in a number of counties that the commission of cold-blooded murder for a frolic appeals to criminals as an amusement without any great element of danger.

The Courier Journal pointed out more than a year ago that an epidemic of crime would result from the inauguration of midnight proceedings against one class of farmers by another class. But for the fact that the law officers in a few counties have risen to the occasion, affairs would be at a worse pass than they are today, and the situation is bad enough when it is necessary for the State Government to use the militia to keep order in various parts of the State.

The authorities at Dixon owe it to the reputable citizens and taxpayers of Webster county, and to the reputable citizens of adjoining counties and the whole State, to punish the murderers of McDowell. It can be done if a sincere effort is made.

JAMES K. JONES IS DEAD

WAS FORMER UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM ARKANSAS.

STRONG BRYAN SUPPORTER

As Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions of the 1896 Convention, He Reported 16 to 1 Platform.

Washington, June 1.—Former United States Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas died at his residence here at 5:30 Monday afternoon after an illness of a few hours, aged 69. He was one of the leading Democrats in the senate from 1885 to 1903 and was one of the strongest supporters of William Jennings Bryan, having acted as chairman of the Democratic national committee and conducted the campaigns of 1896 and 1900. Since leaving the senate in 1903 he has conducted a law practice in this city and has not actively engaged in politics.

On Friday Senator Jones returned from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Leonora Carrington in Arkansas, and Sunday night was apparently enjoying good health. Complaining slightly Monday morning, he remained in bed and at 5:30 Monday afternoon died. The immediate cause of death being heart failure.

Reported 16 to 1 Platform.

A native of Mississippi, where he was born in 1839, James Kimbrough Jones received a classical education and fought as a private soldier in the Confederate ranks throughout the civil war. He was elected to the Forty-Seventh and the two succeeding congresses and in 1885 succeeded to the seat of James S. Walker in the United States senate, where he served three terms, retiring in 1903. Senator Jones was a delegate to the national Democratic convention of 1896, which gave Mr. Bryan his first nomination, and as chairman of the committee on resolutions he reported the 16 to 1 platform. He was made chairman of the national Democratic committee after the convention and as such conducted both of the Bryan campaigns for the presidency.

Advanced in Party Rapidly.

In the senate Mr. Jones came forward rapidly as one of the leaders of his party and was for several years chairman of the Democratic caucus. He was a member of the subcommittee on finance, which reported the Wilson German tariff bill, and was an earnest advocate of tariff revision. Although not an orator, Senator Jones was a forceful and logical speaker and was often heard in debate. He survived his wife and three children—Mrs. Carrington of Arkansas, Miss Sue Jones and James K. Jones, Jr., of this city. Senator Jones will be buried in this city and many of his former colleagues in congress, who have not yet left the city, will remain to attend the funeral.

KILLED OVER WRESTLING.

Constable Kills. Another Following Friendly Bout.

Vermillion, Ill., June 2.—Bruce Northrup, a constable, is dead and Charles Crawford, 21 years old, also a constable, is locked up, charged with the shooting, which was the result of a quarrel following a friendly wrestling bout.

Northrup went to his home. Crawford left the scene also. Fifteen minutes later he went to Northrup's house, carrying in his hand another revolver.

Which one fired first is not known. After half a dozen shots, Northrup fell back, shot through the head.

Alaska Gold Output, $26,000,000. Seattle, Wash., June 2.—The Post-Intelligencer, after receiving reports from all points in the north, estimates the gold output for the coming season in Alaska at $26,000,000.

Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism. 25c. tin and $1.00. Sold by St. Bernard drug store, incorporated.

COSTLY VESSEL FOR A CHURCH.

New York Jeweler Manufactures Monstrance Worth $10,000.

New York.—Jewelry valued at more than $25,000, belonging to members of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church of Brooklyn, was melted and used in the manufacture of a large monstrance, or portable tabernacle, which was used for the first time at the 40-hour devotion services Sunday. Into the making of this sacred vessel went not only the gold of the jewelry presented by the congregation, but precious stones to the number of 94.

There is not another vessel in the United States so costly. The monstrance is used to hold the sacrament when exposed at benediction, and it sometimes is borne outside in solemn procession. The monstrance is placed in the center of the vessel in a receptacle called the lunette. The monstrance of St. Francis Xavier church is three feet high and weighs 124 ounces. It is made entirely by hand and is finished in rose gold. The gold used in its manufacture is 14 carats fine. As in all monstrances the lunette is the center of radiating branches made to represent the rays of the sun.

Around the lunette are 80 diamonds of large size, eight rubies, four sapphires and two pearls. Workmen have been constantly employed on it since last September. The vessel is made in what is known as the English gothic style, and when placed in position will be the chief ornament of the altar of St. Francis Xavier.

It is more than a year since Father Hickey, pastor of the church, conceived the idea of calling for contributions of jewelry from members of his parish for the making of his sacred vessel. The number and value exceeded his expectations. At the end of a year he sent the jewelry to be melted and refined for the manufacturer's use.

Monstrances, sometimes called ostensoriums, date from the first feast of Corpus Christi, declared by Robert, bishop of Liege, in 1246.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

eighty-eight year and has long been an object of admiration approaching worship by the British public. The world knows her for her great work in the Crimea war, 1853-1856, when she organized the British hospital service, and became known as "the angel of the Crimea." On her return to England from the Crimea a purse of £50,000 ($250,000) was subscribed for her, and she devoted the money to the foundation of a school for trained nurses. True to her early instincts, she has refused to accept the gold casket going with the freedom of the city of London, costing $2,000, and at her request the money has been given to hospitals.

Said to Be 132 Years Old.

Probably the oldest man alive is Hadji Raouf, who lives in Constantinople, and is said to be 132 years old. He still works at his profession of saddle-maker, and has never left the house he was born in. His father is believed to have lived to the age of 128.

ON CRUSOE'S ISLAND

By Victor Rousseau

When Carter first opened his eyes he could not remember anything which had occurred. He was staring at a wide expanse of sky and sea, cleft by a lonely lighthouse which rose from the rocks a mile from shore.

He looked around him. He was lying on a gravelly beach, near a small fishing hut. Slowly and with a painful effort he sat up. Then he saw the wreck of his schooner upon the sands and remembered.

"O, dear, are you feeling better now?" exclaimed a girl's voice behind him.

He turned his head painfully. A beautiful face was looking into his with grave concern.

"Drink this and you will feel stronger," said the girl.

She held out a tumbler containing whisky and soda water.

"O, I am so glad you are not dead," she cried. "I saw your yacht driven ashore and hurried over; and then, when I saw you lying there—"

"O, you are the daughter of the lighthouse keeper?" he said.

She nodded her head, smiling mischievously. Carter stared at her in astonishment. With her neat fashionable dress and little tan shoes, she might have stepped out of a fashionable summer hotel.

"Well, we're not all savages, even in Maine," she said, blushing beneath his gaze.

She held out her hand, and with an effort he got onto his feet.

"No bones broken, I guess," he said. "Let us look at the schooner."

But he had hardly moved a step before his foot gave way. The ankle was badly sprained.

"How will you get home?" she said.

"The steamer won't call at the lighthouse for a week now, and father's over in Portland purchasing stores."

"What, are you running the lighthouse all alone?" he asked, in astonishment.

"I am a sailor's daughter," she said. "But what will you do? You must make yourself comfortable in this fishing hut till the steamer comes, and I'll bring you food every day."

In this unconventional manner Carter became a hermit upon the rocky island. His ankle pained him too much to permit him to explore the interior. It seemed one of those numerous small islands off the coast frequented in season by fishermen. The next morning the girl appeared with fresh bread, coffee and a basket of provisions.

"Now, you must stay to dinner with me," he said, gayly.

They cooked their meal and sat down together. It was growing dark before she stepped into the dinghy and rowed away.

The next day and the next day they spent together. And now for the first time Carter, confirmed bachelor, began to fall a victim to the little god he had scorned. The girl, too, did not seem averse to him. He noticed that she grew more serious.

"To-morrow the steamer calls?" he said.

She turned away. Then he saw that her eyes were full of tears. He took her hand in his.

"Dear," he said, "do you think you could grow to care for me?"

"O, I have deceived you," she said impetuously. But for all his urging she would say no more.

"You will come to-morrow to give me your answer?"

"I will meet you at the point of the island there," she answered, as she tore herself away.

The next morning, before the steamer's arrival, Carter for the first time walked along the beach. It was half a mile to the point; and, turning it, to his astonishment, he saw before him an elegant building bearing the legend: "SUMMER HOTEL."

He hurried up the steps and reached the door just in time to intercept a girl in white, who struggled in his arms vainly.

"I—I deceived you," she murmured. "We came down here to stay before the season opened—father and I—and father was called away, and then—"

"I saw you on the beach and pretended you were shipwrecked on a desert island—and that's how I got the soda water—and—oh, are you ever going to forgive me?"

He laughed as he kissed her.

"Father's coming on the steamer, and I don't know what he'll say to you."

"I'll explain everything. May I?" he asked, looking into her eyes.

She blushed and nodded.

Camel Better Than Horse.

Costing about as much as a good horse, the camel's speed is equally great, his life considerably longer and his ability to carry a load equal to that of three horses, while the fact that he can travel for a week, or, if necessary, nearly two weeks without water renders him invaluable to those great sandy stretches. He can also go for several days with little or no food, subsisting meantime upon the fat stored up in the humps on his back, which nature seems to have provided as a storehouse for sustenance in case of absence of food.—National Geographic Magazine.

Not So Fortunate.

"Well, Robbie," said Robbie's uncle, "do you know your letters yet?"

"No," said Robbie. "I haven't got any letters. Nobody ever writes to me."

HUMORING PEOPLE

"As you are the only woman in the office, this comes to you, Miss Saunders," said her employer, tossing her a sample copy of a woman's magazine.

Miss Saunders despaired woman's magazines, yet out of deference to the donor, she turned the leaves until her eye was arrested by a headline which annoyed her. It was "Humoring People." It had never been her way "to humor people, but this, article told of a bookkeeper, like herself, who had started at a small salary, and, unlike her, had been advanced by easy stages to $25 a week. The advancement was the direct result of a judicious system of humoring people.

Miss Saunders had long felt aspirations toward a salary of $25 a week, consequently she fell in love with the idea of humoring people. Falling in love with an idea—like falling in love with a man—moves the victim of the love mania to actions strange and inexplicable to those who think they know her.

When the office boy began to move things about on her desk Miss Saunders snapped: "Stop that, Benny! It is bad enough to know that you steal every pencil stub I have without letting you do it under my very nose."

"It is my business to carry away truck and I ain't hunting a pencil—it's my gum. I stuck it 'round this desk somewhere."

"Ugh! Here it is," pointing to it disgustedly, as if she had seen a mouse. "Quick! Take it off. If I ever catch you sticking gum on my desk again—"

She hesitated, trying to think of a threat commensurate with the offense. Then she was seized by her new idea. Suddenly her tone became conciliatory and she said: "Gum is not as bad as tobacco, Benny, but here's something really good. Have some candy." She held out a box of chocolates.

The boy regarded her with instant suspicion. "Look here," he said, "if it's a note you want me to carry my price is 25 cents, same as I charge the men."

This was discouraging, but a girl in love with an idea does not give up hope at the first rebuff any more than does a girl in love with a man.

Miss Saunders was not in love with any man, yet there was in the office a man whom she highly respected and another whom she abominated. When the latter sat down by her desk and became disagreeably pleasant his first impulse was to annihilate him with a look. Then it occurred to her that perhaps it was her former brusqueness which had attracted him and that she could better secure freedom from his attentions by humoring him, so she did her best. Her active mind was at work on discovering a way to humor her employer, since, if the salary of $25 a week ever materialized, he must be the medium.

He was a nervous man, but not unmanageable except when there were too many checks to be signed. The deepest grudge he bore his bookkeeper was that she was forever asking him to pay bills.

Many of the bills bore the stamp: "Net 60 days—if paid within 30 days three per cent discount." It was his bookkeeper's duty to remind him when these bills were about to fall due, yet whenever he saw her advancing upon him, bill in one hand, check-book in the other, he automatically tried to get away.

She usually presented him with the check for his signature several days in advance of the last discount day, but, under the baleful influence of her loved idea, she decided to hold a bill calling for $2,000 until the last moment. Not till the last morning did she even calculate the discount and she was pleased with herself until she heard some one remark that the head of the firm had left town for a few days.

"Out of town!" she gasped. "And a $2,000 discount bill to be paid!"

"Then he'll lose the discount," was all the comfort she got.

The sufferings of Miss Saunders before her employer's return caused her love for the idea of humoring people to wane very greatly.

When he came she realized how flimsy her story sounded as she told it to him. He smiled sarcastically and then pronounced her doom: "If you were in the habit of holding bills till the last discount day I might blame myself for not notifying you that I would be away, but when you are always poking bills at me a week ahead I know this omission was pure forgetfulness, which I cannot tolerate. The discount on this bill is almost equal to your monthly salary. I might charge that to profit and loss, but this story of yours about hating to see me have to pay such a large amount earlier than was necessary is too transparent. You might rob me, but you will have to get another boss to fool me. You are a good person, but you are not a humoring person."

Miss Saunders has quit humoring people.—Chicago Daily News.
